How to Store Hemp Products

Storing Hemp Foods:

The Powder, Seeds, Oil, Soft Centers, and the Hemp Coffee will store in a cool dark dry place for up to 1-1/2 to 2 years. The oil if opened is best kept in the refrigerator and for unopened containers you may store it in the freezer for an indefinite time period the oil does not freeze it gets much thicker and is in an animated state by freezing the atoms. All other hemp foods will be fine when kept in a cool dark dry environment.

These products are highly nutritious and very tasty so I must say in most homes the products do not last very long everyone loves the taste of these products.

VACUUM PACKAGING: Hemp Powder, Seeds, Soft Centers and Coffee

The Hemp products that are vacuum packaged will last up to 7 years without loss of nutrient value.

Vacuum packaging this product will remove about 99% of the oxygen from the bag that the food is stored in.

The plastic bags that are used to vacuum pack these products are heavy duty triple layer plastic bags that lock in freshness for the long haul.

All the food stored in these bags are water proof.
